

Things to do in Redfield

Grand Army of the Republic (GAR)

This restored building from the 1880s is the only remaining original building in its original location from early Redfield. Built as a meeting house for soldiers returning from the Civil War, it now houses historical displays on the first floor. Open during special events.

Boating & Fishing

There is a paved boat ramp for the Middle Raccoon River on the west edge of Redfield, just below the dam. The float between Redfield and Pleasant Valley is about 8 miles.

Downstream from the impressive rock bluff across from Hanging Rock is an active bald eagle nest.

Hanging Rock

440 acres of timber, prairie and savanna line both sides of the Middle Raccoon River, with bathrooms, showers, and a shelter for rent.

To get there, go west on the trail about ¼ mile. Take the paved trail spur on the left. This trail winds through and ends in Hanging Rock.
